LONDON, JANUARY 20.

ON Tueſday laſt Sir Fletcher Norton waited upon the Duke of Graſton, to peremptorily demand the peerage for Lady Norton; which had been ſome time ago refuſed. His Grace again refuſed to aſk for it; upon which Sir Fletcher went away very much diſſatisfied; but before he had got out of the houſe, he was called back again, and promiſed to be made Speaker, with which, for the preſent, he is contented.

It is confidently ſaid, that the Liberty of the Preſs will be one of the next ſubjects that is to come under conſideration of a great aſſembly.

We are aſſured that the Duke of Graſton has, within theſe few days, expreſſed himſelf to a Great Perſonage in theſe words: "Without firmneſs this nation is undone."

Lord Chatham continues in tolerable good health, and is in high ſpirits. He dined in town on Thurſday laſt.

The conteſt, on Monday, for a Speaker, will lie between Sir Fletcher Norton, ſupported by adminiſtration, and Charles Wolfran Cornwall, Eſq; ſupported by the oppoſition.

We are well informed, that the office of Chief-Juſtice in Eyre will be kept with that of Speaker of the Houſe of Commons.

The patriotic and amiable Lord Camden, is preparing to retire to his country-ſeat near Chiſelhurſt. It cannot but be alarming to every thinking man, to ſee the firſt law officer of this country, and a man of his lordſhip's character and conſequence, thus attempted to be ſacrificed to the purpoſes of a miniſter: But,

When VICE prevails, and IMPIOUS MEN bear ſway,
The POST OF HONOUR is, a PRIVATE STATION.

Tho' the friends of adminiſtration would inſinuate, that Lord Camden's was a voluntary reſignation of the ſeals, we have very good authority to aſſert, that his lordſhip refuſed to ſurrender his office without an abſolute order from his ſovereign; and that his reſignation (if it muſt be called a reſignation) was in ſtrict obedience to the immediate Royal Command.

In the Iriſh liſt of penſions on the civil eſtabliſhment in that kingdom, is the following article: Charles, baron Camden, 2500*l.* September 11, 1756, life; to commence from the determination of his office of chancellor, to ceaſe when his ſon John Jefferys Pratt becomes one of the four tellers of the exchequer.

It is ſaid, the terms upon which Mr. Yorke accepted the ſeals, are, a penſion of 3000*l.* a year, wherever he retires, or is removed; and the peerage and penſion to deſcend to his ſecond ſon.

We are told, that one of the moſt important points inſiſted on by Mr. Yorke, in conſideration of his accepting the ſeals, was and is, that the Royal promiſe ſhould be given him, that he ſhould be at liberty to hold them ten years at leaſt; whatever might or may be his political conduct during that period.

Lord Chancellor Yorke enjoys a patent place for life with his brother the hon. John Yorke, of clerk of the crown in the court of chancery.

Yeſterday a patent paſſed the privy ſeal, creating the hon. Charles Yorke a peer of Great-Britain, by the title of Lord Morden, baron of Morden, in the county of Cambridge, which was the ſame day ſigned by his Majeſty.

The ſame day the Earl of Briſtol kiſſed the King's hand, on being appointed groom of the ſtole, in the room of the Earl of Huntingdon, who has reſigned.

We hear, that the Earl of Oxford has reſigned his place of one of the lords of the bed-chamber.

Yeſterday the Earl of Chatham paid a viſit to the Marquis of Rockingham, at his houſe in Groſvenor-ſquare, where he remained in conference with the Marquis upwards of two hours.-----What may not the now diſtracted nation expect, from the cordial union of two ſuch men, who have only the good of their country in view.

Yeſterday his grace the Duke of Northumberland paid a viſit to Lord Chatham, at his houſe in Pall-mall, where he ſtaid upwards of two hours in conference.

It is a report which gains credit, that as ſoon as the neceſſary buſineſs is gone through, a certain aſſembly will be prorogued, and that the much expected buſineſs will not be entered upon.

It is confidently aſſerted, that we ſhall have an American repreſentation.

Saturday about five o'clock in the afternoon died, the Right Honourable Charles Yorke, Lord High Chancellor of England.---- The immediate cauſe of this gentleman's death is differently related. A feveriſh diſorder had hung upon him for ſome days, and a cold caught in going to court to accept the ſeals is ſuppoſed to have brought on dangerous ſymptoms. It is reported by ſome, that in conſequence of an emetic, taken on Friday morning, he burſt a blood veſſel; by others, that a ſcorbutic eruption, to which he had been ſubject, ſuddenly ſtruck in, and proved fatal.

On Monday the Duke of Mancheſter reſigned his place as Lord of the bed-chamber; the Earl of Huntingdon as groom of the ſtole; the Marquis of Granby as commander in chief of the army, and maſter-general of the ordnance; the Duke of Beaufort as maſter of the horſe to her Majeſty; and the Earl of Coventry as Lord of the bed-chamber. On Thurſday the Earl of Oxford reſigned his place as Lord of the bed-chamber. And yeſterday Sir Jeffery Amherſt waited on his Majeſty, and reſigned all his employments.

January 23. Yeſterday a commiſſion paſſed the great ſeal for appointing Mr. Juſtice Bathurſt, Mr. Juſtice Aſton, and Mr. Baron Smythe, to execute the office of Lord High Chancellor of Great-Britain during his Majeſty's pleaſure.

Yeſterday after the levee at St. James's, a cabinet council was held; when his Grace the Duke of Bolton was ſworn in one of his Majeſty's moſt honourable privy council, and took his ſeat at the board. The ſame day the Earl of Waldegrave was appointed maſter of the horſe to the Queen, in the room of the Duke of Beaufort.

Yeſterday Lord Mansfield ſat as ſpeaker in the Houſe of Peers, on account of the demiſe of the late chancellor.

This day his Majeſty went to the houſe of Peers, when Sir Fletcher Norton, elected Speaker of the houſe of Commons yeſterday, was preſented to his Majeſty, at the bar of the houſe of Peers, for his Majeſty's approbation.

Conſiderable wagers have been laid, at the weſt end of the town, that the Marquis of Granby will be in the poſſeſſion of all his poſts again, within the ſpace of three months.

January 25. Yesterday about two o'clock in the afternoon died, at his house in Downing-street, Westminster, the Right Honourable Sir John Cust, Baronet, late Speaker of the Honourable House of Commons, and member for Granthain in Lincolnshire.

On Saturday next, we hear, comes on to be argued at the Cockpit, Whitehall, the complaints of a certain town in America against a particular person. It is said there are eighteen formal articles of complaint.

January 26. It is said that Mr. Cushing and Mr. Otis are the principal objects of a certain private man's resentment, and of ministerial vengeance.

On Monday last died at Bath, after a very long illness, Sir William Baker, Knight, and alderman of Bassishaw ward, to which office he was elected in 1738. On account of his having voted in favour of the Excise-Bill, he was rejected by the livery, and set aside from serving the office of Mayor. He was the oldest alderman of this city.

January 27. The house of Commons continued sitting from twelve o'clock on Thursday noon, till half an hour past three yesterday morning.

The chairs of two great assemblies have not, in the memory of man, been filled by Speakers of greater abilities than at this time.

It is said that a certain letter will be burnt by the hands of the common hangman.

Yesterday his Majesty went to the house of Peers, attended by his Grace the Duke of Ancaster and Lord Bruce, and gave the royal assent to the followings bills, viz. The bill to continue an act for prohibiting the exportation of grain, meal, malt, bread, flour, biscuit, and starch, and also for extracting spirits or low wines from grain, &c. for a further limited time: The bill to continue and amend an act for allowing the free importation of salted provisions from Ireland, and from the American colonies.

This morning the Earl of Hillsborough had a numerous levee at his Lordship's house in Berkley-square, at which several of the American merchants attended.

February 1. The grand question so warmly debated at a great assembly yesterday was, whether Mr. Luttrell could legally keep his seat, not having produced his Fiat from the Lord High Chancellor of Great-Britain.

Yesterday his Grace the Duke of Grafton accepted the office of Lord Privy Seal, in the room of the Earl of Bristol, made groom of the stole, which Lord Huntingdon has resigned.

February 2. On Monday after the levee the Duke of Grafton had a private conference, when he told a Great Personage, that, "as he found the great strength of the increasing minority was in the ower house, he thought it most natural as well as advisable, to nominate a premier there, in the scene of action; as he found, by daily experience, that that was the fittest place for a prime minister, and that there was no doing any thing without it, as in the cases of Walpole, Pelham and Pitt; and that he saw it was impracticable to stem the tide of opposition from above. He assured the Great Personage at the same time, that he would continue to support the measures of administration with all his interest, though he should decline taking the lead any longer, for the reason above-mentioned."

Yesterday Lord North kissed his Majesty's hand on being appointed first Lord of the Treasury, in the room of his Grace the Duke of Grafton, resigned.

The House of Commons continued sitting from Wednesday noon till half past twelve o'clock yesterday morning. There were 410 members present.

Yesterday at a meeting of the American merchants, at the King's-arms in Cornhill, it was agreed to petition the parliament in relation to several acts of parliament affecting the American colonies.

February 3. On Wednesday, in a certain political club, a motion was made, "That this society has no power to incapacitate a member but by an express act of parliament." This was debated till half past twelve o'clock, when a motion was made that the chairman do leave the chair; on a division, there were for the question 226, against it 186. The committee are to meet again on Friday.

We learn from very good authority, that a certain nobleman has declared, as soon as the differences between England and her colonies are terminated, he will resign all his employments, and never more interfere in administration.

February 5. During the debate in a certain great assembly on Friday night last, Lord Camden, upon its being asserted that he had but very lately discovered the part he acted with respect to the Middlesex election, and that it was always understood he had totally coincided with the proceedings of parliament, appealed to the Duke of Grafton for his opinion on that matter. The Duke of Grafton then rose up, and said, "As he had been called upon, he would candidly declare his opinion of the matter, which was, that he always understood it, though not in direct terms, that the noble Lord who had appealed to him, acquiesced in the measure of incapacitation." The Earl of Chatham then vindicated Lord Camden, by assuring the assembly, that, to his particular knowledge, he was against that measure, for in several conversations with him, he declared his opinion, and supported it by reasons, shewing its impropriety and unconstitutionality.---- The assembly then called out, "The question! the question!" On which Lord Camden previously requested to be heard a few words more for his further vindication; he then acquainted the assembly, "that the reason why he did not in direct terms express himself on this measure, as the noble Duke he appealed to observed, was, that it was a measure never debated, as an object of administration, at least before him, he therefore thought introducing such a subject did not belong to his province; but that he defied the noble Duke, or any other person in administration, to say he ever expressed himself, either directly or indirectly, in favour of that unconstitutional proceeding; and he called particularly, on the noble Duke to declare, whether his suggestion of this matter was not principally and only formed from his silence." The question being immediately proceeded on, prevented a reply, and put an end to the contention.

Lord Chatham has given it as his opinion, that Spain has already done sufficient to justify any steps that England may think expedient to take by way of reprisals; and, we are assured, that a strong memorial is preparing to be sent to the court of Madrid, on a subject of the last importance to the being of West-Florida, as a British settlement. In the mean while orders are sent to Ireland for a regiment of troops on that establishment, to be embarked on board transports at Cork for Pensacola.

It is said, that the purport of a bill now depending, is, that a certain house shall proceed according to law for the future.

Places at this time vacant: The post of Lord Chancellor; the Commander in chief of the Army; the Treasurer of the Navy; two Lord of the Bedchamber; two joint Vice-Treasurers of Ireland; three Lords of the Admiralty; one Lord of Trade; the Solicitor-general; and the Council to the Board of Trade.

February 8. The Supporters of the Bill of Rights have resolved, That a Letter of Thanks from that Society be transmitted to the Honourable the Speaker and Commons House of Assembly of South-Carolina, and that a Committee be appointed to draw up the same.

An estimate, per bills of lading, of all the British manufactures which were shipped last autumn for America, and have lately been returned upon the merchants hands, at London, Bristol, Liverpool, and other out-ports, is preparing for the inspection of an august assembly.

February 9. Yesterday morning an express was sent off to Lord Viscount Townshend, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, who, we are informed, is to continue in the Viceroyship of that kingdom, notwithstanding the many reports to the contrary.

An evening paper of last night says, "Yesterday Mr. Sheriff Townshend entered his protest against any tax or taxes that may henceforth be raised or continued. He rehearsed the circumstances of the Middlesex election; and declared that all the future acts of that house, since the rejection of the lawful member, and the intrusion of another man by violence in his room, would be null and void; and that he would never subscribe to his own dishonour by consenting to pay unlawful taxes; but that the same violence only should take from him his property, which had taken his right of election. He observed from Dr. Blackstone that all other counties, as well as Middlesex, were injured in their representation, because, though a member chosen by one place, when chosen, he is a member for, and represents the whole nation; therefore that he did not doubt the refusal of taxes by the whole kingdom.

February 10. A patriotic nobleman has delivered it as his opinion in a late council, that notwithstanding the present unhappy divisions at home, and the exhausted state of our finances, the first blow that shall be struck by France or Spain, against the Russians, must at all events be considered as a declaration of war against Great-Britain; and we hear the majority of the members present acquiesced in his reasons.

The following is said to be an authentic list of the changes in the several departments of state, viz. Earl of Halifax, Lord Privy Seal, in the room of the Earl of Bristol. Hon. Henry F. Thynne, Treasurer of the Chambers, in the room of Sir Gilbert Elliot. Sir Gilbert Elliot, Treasurer of the Navy, in the room of Lord Howe. Earl of Essex, vice treasurer of Ireland, in the room of Earl Cornwallis.---Board of Admiralty; Lord Lisburne, hon. Charles Fox, and admiral Holburne, in the room of Sir George Yonge, Charles Townshend, Esq; and Sir Piercy Brett.---Board of Trade; Lord Greville, and Jennison Shafto, in the room of Lord Lisburne and Mr. Robinson. Mr. Robinson, Vice-Chamberlain, in the room of the Earl of Jersey. Hugo Meynell, Esq; Master of the Stag Hounds, in the room of Lord Galway.

Letters from Venice, dated the 7th ult. assure, that the celebrated Stephanio Piciolo, who was said to have been made prisoner by the Russians, and conducted into a strange country, had appeared in arms again, and given battle to the Turks near the Black Mountains by Albania, and had made himself master of all that province; the same accounts add, that the Grand Signior had demanded a categorical answer from the Venetian Ambassador, with respect to the intentions of the republic in the present situation of affairs.

We hear that Sir James Peachy, Bart. will be appointed one of the Lords of the Admiralty, in the room of Sir George Yonge, Bart.

Yesterday Sir Edward Clive, Knight, resigned his place as one of the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas, on account of his great age, and bad state of health.

The same day William Blackstone, Esq; King's Counsel and Solicitor-General to the Queen, kissed his Majesty's hand, on being appointed one of the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas, in the room of Sir Edward Clive.

Yesterday morning several Colony Agents had a long conference with the Right Honourable the Earl of Hillsborough, Secretary of State for the Plantations, on affairs of importance to the trade of North-America; and on Tuesday next, the American merchants will present their petition to an august assembly.

The friends of administration affect to lament the late proceedings of the inhabitants of New-York; apprehending, they say, that such violent measures will check that spirit of indulgence towards the colonies, which the ministry have lately professed to entertain, and who are equally averse to be forced or frightened, as the people are to be dragooned into any measures. The sons of freedom, on the contrary, flatter themselves, the resolutions of government in favour of the Americans, will be quickened and brought more speedily to a determination, by this fresh proof of their sensibility, spirit, and love of liberty.

[illegible] against Mr. Wilkes and the freeholders of Great-Britain, were concerted in a cabinet council; and in another place, the contrary has been affirmed. Both these assertions may be true, which to the public may seem a paradox; but the mystery is easily unfolded. The cabinet council nominally consists of the Lord Chancellor, the Lord President, the First Lord of the Treasury, the Lord Privy Seal, the Secretaries of State, the Commander in Chief, and the First Lord of the Admiralty. The persons who held these offices, at the time alluded to (viz. last winter) were Lord Camden, Earl Gower, the Duke of Grafton, Earl of Bristol, Earl of Rochford, Viscount Weymouth, Earl of Hillsborough, Marquis of Granby, and Sir Edward Hawke. It may therefore be true, that the expulsion of Mr. Wilkes, and the election of Mr. Luttrell, were not concerted in this council: But let us consider of whom the cabinet-council really consists. First, there is the Right Hon. James-Stuart Mackenzie, the brother, and the locum tenens of the Earl of Bute. The next is Sir Gilbert Elliot, Bart. another Scot, who has many good places; he is the private friend and confident of the Earl of Bute. The third is Charles Jenkinson, Esq; a Lord of the Treasury, and Auditor of Accounts to the Princess Dowager of Wales. He was Lord Bute's principal Secretary, when his Lordship was publicly at the head of the Treasury. The fourth is Samuel Martin, Esq; who b-------d the Duke of Newcastle, and attempted to k--- Mr. Wilkes. He is Treasurer to the Princess Dowager of Wales; and was another of Lord Bute's Secretaries. The fifth is Lord North; who was strongly recommended to, and forced into the Exchequer (upon the death of the late Mr. Charles Townshend) by the irresistable weight and influence of Carlton House. Will any body doubt, that these men, under such patronage, would hesitate a moment about concerting and executing any measures? It may therefore be true, that the late violent measures, and some others equally vindictive, which are now carrying on, were all concerted in a cabinet-council. While these clerks continue in their present stations, and a set of second-rate men can be found, to take upon them responsible offices, the present corrupt and wicked manner of conducting the public business, and determined malice against the liberties of Englishmen, will not cease. It is owing to a resolution to keep these underlings and spies in office (for they are nothing else) that every honest man of abilities is afraid to enter into administration. A resolution that tends to forward that plan, which has been for a long time carried on, for lowering all the constitutional powers of this kingdom.

February 13. After several debates on an important question, there were for the question 188, against it 263, majority 75.

His Royal Highness the Duke of Gloucester will command the army; and the Duke of Cumberland will be appointed Lord High Admiral of Great-Britain, with a proper council.

Bets are seven to two that the Spaniards attack Jamaica before the first of June.

Letters from Dantzig say, that a second fleet of twelve ships of the line is fitting out with the utmost expedition, in Russia, the command of which is to be given to Admiral Kosmin.

February 14. There was the fullest House of Commons on Monday night that has been known, not only in the course of the present sessions, but for several years past, 451 members being present; the majority increased, and the minority continued partly the same as upon former divisions.

Friday last Lord Holland's accounts were laid before the Barons of the Exchequer.

We hear Lord Hertford has resigned his place as Lord Chamberlain to his Majesty; and that Richard Hussey, Esq; has resigned his place as Attorney-General to her Majesty.

It is confidently asserted that Sir Francis Bernard, late Governor of Massachusett's Bay, has the grant of a pension of 600*l.* per annum.

The petition of the American merchants, we hear, is postponed to this day sevennight.

February 15. It is said that the honorary and nominal office of Vice-Admiral of all America, which composes now a part of the title of a great man lately gone into opposition, is soon to be created a place of profit and jurisdiction, and to be given to another person, of different political sentiments.

Considerable bets are laid at the west end of the town, that the Duke of Portland, Lord Camden, the Marquis of Rockingham, and Lord Chatham, will be at the head of the administration before the month of April next.

We are assured, that the parliament will break up on Tuesday the 20th of March.

This morning several American merchants attended the Lords of Trade and Plantations on important business, respecting the colonies.

We are assured, that the complaints of the Americans will be the subject of some public debates at the west end of the town this evening.

We are told that considerable wagers were laid this morning in a coffee-house in Pall-mall, that a total change in the ministry will take place before Easter.

The repeated though unsuccessful efforts made by the minority, to procure the people a redress of their grievances, especially in the injury they have suffered in their right of election, justly entitles them to the thanks and gratitude of their cotemporaries, and will certainly secure them the reverential esteem of posterity.

February 17. A correspondent informs us, that the eloquent, learned, and patriotic Serjeant Glynn, made a most spirited and elegant speech, in a certain assembly on Monday night last, in defence of the glorious cause of Liberty, which lasted for three hours, and seventeen minutes.

In some late debates, it was observed, that the abuse thrown out in the News-Papers against the people in power or popularity, was really grown intolerable; and that it was greatly to be lamented, that such insults and indecencies were not to be prevented; upon which Lord Temple got up, and said, "That an English ministry were always fair game. Who does not know Lord Gawky? Is there a limb about him which has not been hung up to public ridicule? From his gate he takes his name; and his general person has frequently afforded a copious topic of diversion and entertainment. Why should my friend Malagrida, (Lord Shelburne) take the popular railleries so much to heart? Let him laugh with the laughers, as I do; and, believe me, he will obtain a more complete triumph than by opposing law to ridicule, which, after all, will have its course."

The following is assigned as the reason of the Marquis of Granby's resigning his post of Master of the Ordnance and Generalissimo. During the Middlesex election, he voted for Colonel Luttrell; being afterwards conscious of having acted on a wrong principle, he waited on a great personage, and expressed in the strongest terms, his regret for having done so, and begged leave to resign, which was readily granted him.

St. James's, February 5. The King has been pleased to appoint the Right Honourable Frederick North, commonly called Lord North, the Right Honourable George Onslow, Charles Jenkinson, Jeremiah Dyson, and Charles Townshend, Esquires, to be his Majesty's commissioners for executing the office of Treasurer of his Majesty's exchequer.

Bristol, January 27. On Monday last the merchants of this city assembled at their Hall, in order to ascertain what orders they had received from America, and whether they were conditional or not? When it appeared, that the merely conditional orders on the repeal of the late acts amounted to 200,000*l.* The particulars it was agreed to transmit to Matthew Brickdale, Esq; one of our members, and request his utmost assistance in obtaining a repeal of the said acts.

Description of MR. EDWARD BURKE'S celebrated Speech.

"When the eyes of all Europe were on us this day, expecting to have those grievances mentioned, that have so long engaged their conversation, as well as our feelings---when Englishmen submitted to unheard of grievances, waiting for this hour of redress, how are we disappointed! how are we mortified! when, instead of being looked upon as persons capable of redressing public grievances, or guardians of the liberties of our electors, we are only recommended to suppress the infection now raging amongst the horned cattle, as if the members of this honourable H--se only possessed the qualification of Cow Doctors?

"How shall we account for this strange procedure? Cannot we plainly perceive, that this is the echo of a feeble, daring, venal A----------n? who, grown practical in corruption, have fitted themselves for the worst of purposes---who have been so hackneyed in the ways of error and venality, that they have lost sight of either virtue or honour, and are reduced to this last alternative, an impudent perseverence."

NEW-YORK, MARCH 12.

BETWEEN Eleven and Twelve o'Clock last Thursday Night, a terrible Fire broke out in Scotch-Street, in this City. 'Tis said to have begun in a large Wooden Building belonging to Mr. Jonathan Hampton, where some Carpenters had been at Work, and the Place of Meeting of the St. John's Lodge, who have lost all their Jewels and other Furniture. The Inhabitants, with their usual Alertness on such Occasions, assisted by the Officers and Soldiers of the 16th Regiment, a great Number of Seamen from the Ships in the Harbour, and many of the Inhabitants of Brooklyn, on Long-Island, with their Engines, used their utmost Endeavours to extinguish the Flames, but found their Efforts much baffled by the Narrowness of the Streets, a Scarcity of Water, being far from any of the Rivers, and the great Difficulty of getting to the Fire. The Flames from Mr. Hampton's House, it being very high, soon extended across the Street, and burnt with great Fury, carrying every Thing before it, being all Wooden Houses; but about One o'Clock, the Engines being well served, and every Person present having exerted himself to the utmost, the Fire was happily subdued, but not without the Loss of the following Houses, and almost every Thing they contained, viz,

Jonathan Hampton's House, Widow Campbell's House, John Ball's House, occupied by the Widow M'Dougall; a House belonging to Capt. Witter, a House belonging to Stephen Ustick, a House belonging to Tunies Shenck, wherein the Widow Johnston, James Winderson, and one Patterson, lived; a House in the Possession of Jacob Brothers, owned by William Beekman; Adrian Bogart's Bolting-House; a Store-House belonging to Walter Franklin, with a Quantity of Logwood therein; two Houses belonging to Daniel Amar, wherein the said Amar, and one James, a Pilot, lived; a House owned and occupied by---- Cherdevoyne; a House belonging to one Hopkins; and three others the Property of John Van Zant, Cooper.

The above Fire is said to have been the greatest that ever happened in this City, and what makes the Loss greater, is, that the Sufferers in general are in very indigent Circumstances; therefore 'tis not doubted but the opulent in this Place will be liberal in contributing to the Assistance of the Distressed, many of whom are left without a Bed to lay on, or a Second Shirt or Coat to their Backs.

March 26. On Monday last, was celebrated at the House of Mr. Abraham De La Montagne, Inn-keeper in the Fields, the Anniversary of the Repeal of the Stamp-Act, where the Liberty Colours, (inscribed with G. R. III. Liberty and Trade) were hoisted.---Two hundred and thirty of the principal Inhabitants of this City, Friends to Liberty and Trade, dined on an elegant Entertainment which was prepared for them.------The Day was ſpent with the greateſt Cheerfulneſs and good Order; and the following Toaſts were drank on the memorable Occaſion.

1. The King.---2. The Queen.---3. The Prince of Wales and Royal Family.---4. Proſperity to Great-Britain and her Colonies, and may perpetual Union and Harmony ſubſiſt between them.---5. The Governor and Province.---6. Lord Dunmore.---7. The Navy and Army.---8. The Members of his Majeſty's Council.---9. Our preſent worthy General Aſſembly.---10. The Mayor and Corporation.---11. The Earl of Chatham.---12. The Marquis of Rockingham, and the reſt of the patriotic Miniſtry in the Year 1766.---13. The glorious Majority of both Houſes of Parliament, in the Year 1766.---14. The ſpirited Burgeſſes of Virginia in the Year 1765.---15. The 92 Non-Reſcinders of the Maſſachuſetts Aſſembly.---16. Mr. Dulany.---17. The Pennſylvania Farmer.---18. May his Majeſty never want a Pitt at the Head of his Miniſtry, or a Pratt to preſide in his Courts of Juſtice.---19. Alderman Wilkes.---20. Dr. Lucas.---21. The true Sons of Liberty in America, and the Friends of Liberty throughout the World.---22. May the Authors of Diſcord, and Promoters of inteſtine Feuds meet with their juſt Demerits.----23. All the American Aſſemblies who treated a certain Miniſterial Mandate with the contempt it deſerved.---24. Proſperity to Ireland.---25. May the Illuſtrious Houſe of Hanover rule the Britiſh Empire to the End of Time.----26. Trade and Navigation, and a ſpeedy Removal of their Embarraſments.---27. The Corporation of the Chamber of Commerce in the City of New-York.----28. Marine Society.---29. The glorious tho' unfortunate General Paoli.---30. The Knights of Corſica.----31. The American Manufactures.---32. Liberty of the Preſs.---33. The Memorable 18th of March 1766.----34. Loyalty, Unanimity, and Perſeverance to the true Sons of Liberty in America.

On the ſame Day a Number of Gentlemen in Union and Friendſhip with the above Company, dined at the Houſe of Mr. Samuel Waldron, at the Ferry, on Long-Iſland; and ſpent the Day with great Cheerfulneſs and good Order; and the Toaſts drank ſimilar to thoſe above.

We hear from Niagara, that Capt. Brown of the 2d Battalion of his Majeſty's Royal American Regiment on his Way to that Garriſon, with three Battoes loaded with his Baggage and Stores for himſelf and other Officers there, met with a ſudden Gale of Wind on the 27th of November laſt, about Day break, near the White-Oak Orchard on Lake Ontario, by which the Boats were immediately filled with Water, and that with ſome Difficulty all the Men ſaved themſelves and Stores, ſome few Things excepted, the Boats being all knocked to Pieces. The Captain ſet off the next Day with three Men, and travelled through the Woods (then covered with Snow) to Niagara, where he arrived the 30th, and ſent Battoes to bring what was left on the Beach, which returned ſafe a few Days after.

Laſt Sabbath, being the Anniverſary of the Repeal of the deteſtable STAMP-ACT, on Monday Morning Colours were diſplayed on HAMPDEN-HALL and the LIBERTY-POLE oppoſite to it:---A Company of about 300 Gentlemen, Freeholders and Freemen of this City, (real Friends to Liberty) met at the former, in order to celebrate that memorable Deliverance from the Chains which had been forged for the Americans, by a deſigning and diſpotic Miniſtry.---A decent and plentiful Entertainment was provided. Before they ſat down to Dinner, the Company nominated Ten of their Number to dine with Captain Mc Dougall, at his Chamber in the New-Goal, where a ſuitable Dinner was alſo provided: After both Companies had dined, a Committee was appointed to ſend two Barrels of Beer, and what was left of the Dinners, to the poor Priſoners in the Goal, which was received with great Thanks. The following loyal and patriotic Toaſts were drank.

1. The KING.---2. The QUEEN, Prince of WALES, and all the Royal Family.---3. May the American Colonies fully enjoy the Britiſh Conſtitution.---4. The Right Hon. the Earl of Dunmore, and the Province.---5. Great-Britain and her Colonies.---6. The ſpirited Houſe of Burgeſſes in Virginia, in 1765 and 1769.---7. The Ninety-two patriotic Non-Reſcinders of the Maſſachuſetts, and our ſuffering Brethren in that Colony.---8. The Aſſemblies on the Continent, that have nobly refuſed to comply with the Mutiny Act.---9. All the Friends of America, in Great-Britain, Ireland, and the Colonies.---10. May a Conſtitutional Union ever exiſt between Great-Britain and her Colonies.---11. May the illuſtrious Houſe of Hanover, never want a Proteſtant Heir to rule the Britiſh Empire.---12. May the Deſigns of the Enemies of the Britiſh Empire, ever be defeated.---13. The immortal Memory of William the Third, and the glorious Revolution.---14. Unanimity to the Colonies to the lateſt Poſterity.---15. The LIBERTY of the PRESS.---16. JOHN WILKES, Eſq; for his noble Struggles in the Cauſe of Liberty.---17. Captain ALEXANDER McDOUGALL, who has nobly ſtood forth in its Defence.---18. The Freedom of Elections.---19. The Supporters of the Bill of Rights.---20. A Continuance of the Non-Importation Agreement, until the Revenue Acts are repealed.---21. Proſperity to the Trade and Manufactories of America.---22. Unanimity among all the Sons of Liberty in America, and Perſeverance in the glorious Cauſe.---23. The Navy and Army.---24. Lord Chatham.---25. Lord Camden.---26. General Conway.---27. Colonel Barre.---28. The preſent patriotic Lord Mayor of London.---29. Mr. Burke.---30. General PAOLI.---31. The Pennſylvania FARMER.---32. The Memory of John Hampden, Eſq.---33. The Memory of Algernon Sidney, Eſq.---34. Doctor Lucas, the Patriot of Ireland.---35. All the Sufferers for the Cauſe of Liberty.---36. The celebrated Female Hiſtorian, Mrs. M'Auley.----37. The Memory of Andrew Hamilton, Eſq; who undauntedly advocated the Cauſe of John Peter Zenger.---38. Zenger's Jury, who regardleſs of the Directions of the Court, refuſed to bring in a ſpecial Verdict, and acquitted the Priſoner.---39. A total Abolition of the Star-Chamber Doctrine of Libels, as held up in the Trials of Zenger, Mead and Penn.----40. Confuſion to all Informers, but ſuch as contribute to the Salvation of their Country.---41. More public Virtue and Integrity, and leſs Venality throughout the Britiſh Empire.---42. The Memory of the Scotch Barons, in the Reign of Robert the Firſt.---43. The Memory of our late worthy Governor Sir HENRY MOORE.----44. The Committees for inſpecting the Non-Importation Agreements in all the Colonies.----45. The DAY.

The Day was celebrated with great Joy and Decency.----A little before Sun-ſet, the Company from Hampden-Hall, joined by a Number of People in the Fields, went with Muſic playing, and Colours flying, to the New-Goal, where they ſaluted Capt. M'Dougall, with three Cheers, which were anſwered in like Manner by the Company within. He thanked them for this Mark of their Reſpect in a ſhort Addreſs through the Grates of the Widow of the Middle Story. After this they proceeded to the Liberty Pole, and as the Sun was ſetting, haul'd down the Flag diſplayed on it; and from thence marched down Chappel-Street, to the Coffee-Houſe, and up the Broad-Way to the Liberty Pole, where one of the Company deſired them to diſperſe, and each Man to retire; which they immediately did. And thus cloſed the Day, to the great Satisfaction of all preſent.

Yeſterday his Majeſty's 16th Regiment embarked on board the Tranſports, and will ſail for Penſacola To-morrow.

JAMES GADSDEN.
ANDREW RUTLEDGE.

THE South Part of the Subscriber's Wharf is now fit for Business. Coasting Schooners, and inland Boats of any Size, may unload there full as commodiously and safely, and with as great Dispatch as in any Dock in Town.—He has Stores already built that will contain about Fifteen Hundred Barrels of Rice, and is about building more. He will be much obliged to such Persons as will order their Produce to be landed at his Wharf, where, whenever they are inclinable to store their Rice or Indico, &c. they will be as safe from all Dangers, particularly from Fire, as in any Stores in the Province.—He will be particularly attentive to give their Boats the utmost Dispatch, and as he is sure the Produce of the Province can be disposed of at his Wharf to as much Advantage as any where else, such of his Friends as will send, whatever Rice, Indico, or Naval Stores, they order to be landed at his Wharf, to him, he will sell those Articles for them at the usual Rates.—He will make no Charge this Crop for any Rice stored in his Stores belonging to the Planters, not exceeding one Week, nor belonging to the Merchants, for that Time, provided 'tis shipt off at his Wharf.

N. B. There is no Wharf in Town where the Ships can lay more secure, or where their Cables will be so little liable to Damage, and such Ships as land their Ballast at his Wharf this Crop, shall be charged no Wharfage, be assisted to put it out, and have their Water Casks filled with as good Water as any to be got in or near Town besides, gratis.——Not a Wharf in Town better, if so well calculated, for dispatching a Vessel, or where there is so little Occasion for Porters to roll Rice, &c. indeed that Charge may be altogether saved, or at most can cost the Gentlemen in Trade a mere Trifle.

CHRISTOPHER GADSDEN.

WILLIAM LOOCOCK,

Has imported in the last vessels from LONDON,

A Compleat and general assortment of chymical, galenical preparations and drugs, with almost every family medicine now in use, among which are, the famous essence of JOHNSTON or TURPETH ROOT, being a native of the remote parts of this province, and which is the most certain, easy and effectual medicine ever found in all venereal cases. Fifteen drops being taken morning and evening, in a glass of water or any thing convenient, will most effectually rout that disorder in a few days, and never leave any gleet or weeping after it, which is too often the case: It is likewise a most effectual medicine in all rhumatic complaints, leprosy, scurvy, old sores or ulcers, nay even in all cronical disorders; it will cure the yaws effectually in a few days; and will be sold on the most reasonable terms at his MEDICINAL WARE-HOUSE, in Broad-street.

TO BE SOLD, by private contract, and may be entered on immediately,

A Valuable plantation on Edisto-Island, containing 300 acres of land, inferior to none in this province for corn, rice, and indico, very pleasantly situated on a bold creek that leads from White-Point to Watt's Cut; on the above plantation is a commodious dwelling house, with other convenient out buildings; about 80 acres of the said land is now under good fence, and very convenient for planting this season. Any person inclinable to purchase, may treat with Mr. Ephraim Mikell, on Edisto-Island, or with the subscriber at Indian-Land, in whose hands the plat may be seen.

May 19, 1769. A mulatto fellow, calls himself James, says he was born in Jamaica, and belonged to Mrs. Bonner, she dying, Mr. Gibbes, merchant, took him, and he believes sold him to one Captain Sangster, he dying on his passage to Liverpool, imagined himself free, as no one claimed him, shipped himself on board the Brig Gambia, Captain Hudson, bound for the river Gambia, and continued twenty-two months there, but on Captain Davis's arrival shipped himself with him for South-Carolina; he is five feet five inches high, strait limbed, pitted with the small pox, and has a cut over his right eye. Taken up by one Mr. Hughes, as Mr. Gibbes's property in Jamaica; but since has received the affidavits of Mr. Palmer, and Mr. Philip Gibbes, that the said James is the property of Captain Simple, who uses Jamaica from London.

August 1, 1769. A negro fellow, of the Guinea country, calls himself Tom, and says his master's name was Miller, a Dutchman, lived at Mr. William Middleton's plantation, but died since he run-away; he is five feet three inches high, of a yellowish complexion, well set, carries the marks of an old offender; has on an old white negro cloth jacket, with blue lapells, oznabrug shirt, and white negro cloth breeches. Taken up at Mr. Robert Rowand's plantation at Stono.

September 30, 1769. A mulatto fellow, calls himself Monday, says he belongs to Robert Lewis; he is five feet 5 inches high, marked on his right cheek R, and on his left L, has on a pea jacket, blue breeches, oznabrug shirt and trowsers; is the same fellow which is advertised in Mr. Timothy's paper. Taken up at Mr. M'Gaw's plantation at Wando.

October 11, 1769. A new negro fellow, cannot tell his own or master's name, nor his country, seems to be silly; he is 5 feet 2 inches high, yellow complexion, full faced, stout limbed, has a lump on his breast like a wart, also a scar on his left arm, has on nothing but a pair of white negro cloth breeches; the said negro was taken from one John Reynes, a notorious villain, which the justice imagines he stole from the lower settlements, as he absented himself on being detected with the said negro, and going out of this province. Taken and sent down by Nicholas Frederick Meyer, J. P. from Long Canes.

November 7, 1769. A new negro fellow, of the Kissey country, calls himself Pompey, but cannot or will not tell his master's name; he is 5 feet 5 inches high, yellowish complexion, full faced, his country marks on his forehead, a cut on his nose, ears bored, wants two teeth in his upper jaw, also wants a piece of his thumb on his left hand; has on an old white negro cloth jacket, check shirt, and crocus breeches. Taken up near Mr. Webb's plantation, Congarees.

December 14, 1769. A new negro fellow, of the Guinea country, calls himself Jack, says his master's name is Livingston; he is five feet two inches high, of a black complexion, full faced, has big eyes, no beard, a cut on his left wrist, and strait limbed; has on an old shirt, and a pair of old leather breeches. Taken up by Thomas Blackman, at the Four Holes.

March 19, 1770. A new negro fellow, of the Angola country, calls himself Dick, but cannot or will not tell his master's name, he is five feet one inch high, of a black complexion, red eyed, full faced, long beard, one ear bored, his country marks on his back, well made, stout limbed, and has nothing but an old blanket. Taken up at Captain Hazzard's plantation, Indian-Land.

Two negroes, who call themselves Johnny and Sarah, say their master's name is Lindaw Lewey, and that they have been walking ten days: Johnny is five feet one inch high, yellow complexion, thin visage, his country marks on his forehead, his ears bored, and seems above forty years old; has on an old blue coat, breeches, and check shirt.—Sarah is five feet two inches high, yellow complexion, full faced, big lips, her country marks on each cheek and forehead, and not so old as the fellow; has on an home-spun rapper and petticoat, made by her mistress. Was taken up at Mr. Thomas Radcliffe's plantation, without the new gate.

April 12, 1770. Three new negroes, two of the Guinea country, and the other of the Banbara country, call themselves, Jupiter, Sambo and Tom, but cannot tell their master's name to be understood.—Jupiter is five feet ten inches high, black complexion, thin visaged, red eyed, long beard, wants a tooth in his lower jaw, and has a small lump on his left breast.——Sambo is five feet ten inches high, yellowish complexion, long beard, his country marks down each side of his face, and his left ear bored.——Tom is five feet five inches high, black complexion, red eyed, thin visaged, small beard, and a small mole on his chin, both ears bored, and have all white negro cloth jackets and breeches, with buttons of the same; they also say their driver's name is Sam. Taken up at Mrs. Branford's plantation, Stono.
